

Visitor Information

Location

Rainier Trail via the Issaquah Community Center
301 Rainier Blvd South
Issaquah, WA 98027

Park Hours & Info

Dawn to dusk. Jakob is located on the trail about 0.25 miles from the Issaquah Community Center. The entire Rainier Trail runs approximately 2.5 miles in one direction and is rich with history.

Parking

There is a small lot at the Issaquah Community Center and parking is available on nearby streets. The Community Center has public EV chargers available for use for a small fee.

Trail Accessibility

Starting at the Community Center, walk south approximately 0.25 miles, past the Dog Park on the paved Rainier Trail. The trail is ADA, rolling vehicle and bicycle friendly. Note, if you are visiting downtown Issaquah, the Rainier Trail is easily accessible by foot.

Restrooms

Located in the Community Center. Hours are M-F 7am-9pm, Sat 8am-4pm. Closed on Sun.

Public Transportation

King County Metro provides bus service to the trailhead. Plan your visit by bus using TOTAGO, or consult the King County metro schedules 200, 208, 214 and 271. Sound Transit, route 554, also services the Rainier Trail.

Jakob Two Trees

A hundred circle suns, not old,
cause time will loop
and stretch and fold
So, stop, breathe in,
breathe out, behold
The trees has sung,
the story is told.

Rainier Trail fun facts

The trail winds its way along the historic Seattle, Lake Shore and Eastern Railway grade as it snakes a route through the town of Issaquah, highlighting regional history of railroading, timber harvesting and milling and also highlighting recent preservation and trail advocacy.

Geocaching

Adventure highlights

This adventure takes you on a walking tour through charming downtown Issaquah and highlights its local treasures and history.

info on the artist: Thomas Dambo